STUDIO ASSET

Wedding Photographer

The AI Playbook for Wedding Photographers Convert more inquiries, book premium couples, build vendor referrals, and create a gallery delivery experience that generates 5-star reviews

02

STUDIO ASSET

Introduction

The wedding photographers booking premium couples consistently aren't just the most talented shooters. They respond to inquiries within 2 hours. They follow up on ghosted leads with the right message. They maintain venue and planner relationships that send warm referrals year-round. And they deliver galleries with an experience that makes couples feel celebrated rather than just served. This playbook gives you 7 chapters covering every scenario where AI saves you time and wins you more bookings — with copy-paste prompts throughout.

03

STUDIO ASSET

Conversion

The 2-Hour Response Window Couples often contact 5-8 photographers simultaneously. The first professional, warm, and specific response wins a disproportionate number of consultations. Your response should feel like it was written specifically for them — because with AI, it takes 3 minutes to make it so.

04

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Same-Day Inquiry Response

Write a warm, enthusiastic inquiry response email for my wedding photography studio. The couple [Names] reached out about their wedding on [date] at [venue]. They mentioned: [paste 2-3 details from their inquiry — venue style, vibe, what matters to them]. My photography style is [your style — e.g., romantic documentary / bright and airy / moody film]. I want to: (1) make them feel like I genuinely read their inquiry, (2) briefly describe how I'd approach their specific wedding, (3) invite them to a discovery call with a specific time offered. Warm, excited, under 200 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name].

overwhelmed with planning and lose track. A thoughtful 3-touch follow-up keeps the conversation warm, clarifies the next step, and gives couples an easier path back to your booking process.

02

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — 3-Touch Follow-Up Sequence

Write a 3-message follow-up sequence for a wedding photography inquiry that hasn't responded. Couple [Names], wedding [date] at [venue]. Message 1 (Day 3): warm check-in, add one piece of relevant value about their venue or wedding style. Message 2 (Day 8): share a relevant before/after or portfolio piece with a brief note. Message 3 (Day 14): soft close — 'closing my inquiry folder for [their month]' — leaves door open. Each under 80 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name].

Onboarding

The Post-Booking Welcome System The experience between booking and the wedding is where most photographers lose referrals before the wedding even happens. A thoughtful onboarding sequence sets expectations, builds excitement, and positions you as someone who is genuinely invested in their day.

04

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Post-Booking Welcome Email

Write a post-booking welcome email for my wedding photography studio. The couple [Names] just signed their contract for their wedding on [date] at [venue/location]. I want to: (1) celebrate the booking with genuine excitement, (2) outline what they can expect from now until their wedding day (key touchpoints), (3) let them know the best way to reach me, (4) mention the engagement session if it's included. Warm and personal. Under 250 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name]. The Engagement Session Prep Email Couples who are nervous before their engagement session produce awkward photos.

Building Venue Preferred Vendor Relationships One preferred vendor listing at a busy wedding venue can generate 15-40 inquiries per year. The photographers on those lists maintain the relationship with consistent, professional communication — not just good work.

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Venue Coordinator Introduction

Write a professional introduction email from a wedding photographer to a venue coordinator named [Name] at [Venue Name]. My photography style is [style]. I want to: (1) introduce myself and my work briefly, (2) mention that I've photographed at or near their venue (if true) or that I've admired their venue, (3) ask about their preferred vendor process or list, (4) offer to send a portfolio or have a quick call. Professional, not salesy. Under 150 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name]. Monthly Value Touch for Wedding Planners Wedding planners are your single most powerful referral source.

04

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Venue Coordinator Introduction

A planner who loves working with you will mention your name to every couple they work with. The key: make their job easier, not just your own.

05

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Monthly Planner Value Touch

Write a monthly value email from a wedding photographer to a wedding planner named [Name] at [Planning Company]. Share: (1) one insight that would help their couples during the planning process — e.g., a timeline tip, lighting

Generation

The Gallery Delivery Experience Gallery delivery is the single most important moment for generating reviews and referrals. Most photographers email a link. The photographers generating consistent 5- star reviews build a moment around the delivery.

03

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Gallery Delivery Email

Write a gallery delivery email for my wedding photography studio. Couple [Names], wedding [date] at [venue]. The gallery contains [number] images and is delivered via [platform]. I want this email to: (1) build anticipation before giving the link, (2) share 2-3 personal observations from their day that made it special, (3) explain how to download and share the gallery, (4) plant the seed for the review ask without asking yet. Emotional, personal, specific. Under 300 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name]. The Review Request Follow-Up Ask 5-7 days after gallery delivery — not immediately.

04

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Gallery Delivery Email

The couple needs time to look through the images and feel the emotion before you ask them to articulate it.

05

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Review Request Email

Write a review request email for my wedding photography studio, sent 5-7 days after gallery delivery. Couple [Names]. Reference one specific moment from their wedding day that I captured. Make a personal, non-transactional ask for a Google review. Include the direct link. Under 150 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name].

03

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Instagram Caption Batch

Write 5 Instagram captions for a wedding photographer with a [style — e.g., romantic documentary / bright and airy / dark and moody] aesthetic. Topics: (1) a wedding day moment that most photographers miss but I always prioritize, (2) advice for couples on how to feel natural in photos (a specific tip), (3) what to consider when choosing a wedding photographer beyond the portfolio, (4) an emotional story from a recent wedding (change the names), (5) a behind-the-scenes post about wedding day preparation. Each under 150 words, emotional and specific, ending with a question or soft CTA. Studio name: [Studio Name].

Pinterest Strategy for Wedding Photographers Pinterest drives long-tail discovery for wedding photographers — a pin from 2 years ago regularly generates current inquiries if it's properly keyworded. Each blog post or gallery should generate 10-15 pins to 5-8 boards.

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Pinterest Pin Descriptions

Write 5 Pinterest pin descriptions for a wedding photographer, each optimized for search. Pins are from a wedding at [venue] in [city]. Style: [style]. Describe: (1) overall wedding atmosphere, (2) bridal getting ready details, (3) ceremony moment, (4) first look or couple portraits, (5) reception dancing. Each description: 100-150 words, include venue name, city, style keywords (e.g., 'romantic', 'candid', 'golden hour'), and end with a soft CTA to view the full gallery. Studio Presenting Your Pricing Confidently Photographers who struggle with pricing conversations almost always do so because they present the number without enough context. Price is only uncomfortable when value hasn't been established first.

02

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Pricing Email Response

Write an email response to a couple who asked 'what are your packages and prices?' for wedding photography. My packages start at $[amount] and go to $ [amount]. Rather than just listing prices, I want to: (1) briefly contextualize what affects wedding photography investment, (2) describe what's included at each level, (3) invite them to a call to discuss what fits their day. Confident, not apologetic about the price. Under 200 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name].
Handling the Budget Objection

03

STUDIO ASSET

Prompt — Budget Objection Response

Write a response to a couple who said 'we love your work but you're a bit over our budget'. My lowest package is $[amount] and their budget is approximately $ [amount]. Options I can offer: [list any flexibility — e.g., smaller package / midweek discount / payment plan]. I want to: (1) acknowledge their honesty, (2) briefly explain what's reflected in my price, (3) present whatever genuine options exist without devaluing my work. Warm but firm. Under 200 words. Sign as [Your Name], [Studio Name].
