NOURISH MOMENTUM

USE THE SYSTEM

Make care easier to understand and act on.

Start with the next client moment: consultation inquiry, onboarding, check-in, meal-plan guidance, recipe support, education post, progress celebration, or retention email.

01

Lead with reassurance

Use calm, specific language that helps people feel informed before they take the next step.

02

Support the journey

Connect content and templates to real care stages: consult, appointment, plan, follow-up, and return visit.

03

Keep trust consistent

Review every asset for accuracy, warmth, compliance awareness, and the tone of a premium practice.

Section 1: Brand Positioning

The nutrition space is crowded with generic advice. The practitioners who build thriving practices are those who are clearly positioned — who they help, what outcome they deliver, and why their approach is different. Your brand communicates this before a potential client ever speaks to you. Your Practice Promise I help [specific person — e.g., women with PCOS / endurance athletes / people newly diagnosed with type 2 diabetes / busy professionals] [achieve specific outcome — e.g., balance their hormones through food / fuel their training and recover faster / manage their blood sugar without medication / finally have a healthy relationship with food] without [biggest fear — e.g., extreme restriction / giving up the foods they love / complicated meal plans they can't sustain]. Example: 'I help women with PCOS balance their hormones and lose weight sustainably — without cutting out entire food groups or following a plan that doesn't fit real life.' Niche Clarity — The Most Important Brand Decision You'll Make Generalist nutritionists compete on price.

CARE ASSET

Section 1: Brand Positioning

Specialists in high-demand niches command 2–3x higher rates and attract clients who are pre-sold on their expertise. You don't have to turn anyone away — but your marketing should speak to one person. • Gut health and IBS / IBD • Diabetes and metabolic health • PCOS and hormonal balance • Sports nutrition and performance • Weight management (non-diet approach) • Prenatal and postnatal nutrition • Eating disorder recovery support • Pediatric and family nutrition

Section 2: Color Palettes

Nutrition branding should feel nourishing, natural, and trustworthy. Greens and earthy tones dominate the best nutrition brands — they signal health, growth, and nature without being clinical or cold.
