To Keep Your Flowers Looking Beautiful:

• On arrival: trim the stems at a 45-degree angle with sharp scissors or secateurs • Remove any leaves that sit below the waterline — they cause bacterial growth • Place in a clean vase with fresh, cool water • Add the flower food sachet (if provided) to the water

06

EXPERIENCE ASSET

Daily Care:

• Top up the water daily — flowers drink a surprising amount

EXPERIENCE ASSET

Experience Asset

- Re-trim the stems every 2-3 days to maximise water uptake
- Change the water completely every 3-4 days

02

EXPERIENCE ASSET

Placement:

- Keep out of direct sunlight and away from heat sources
 - Keep away from fruit — ethylene gas significantly shortens vase life
 - A cool room overnight (below 18°C) will extend the life considerably
- EXPECTED VASE LIFE: [X-X] days from delivery/purchase. Questions? [Phone] | [Email] | [Instagram]

Subject A Partnership Idea — [Your Name] + [Planner Name]

Dear [Name], I've been admiring [Planning Company]'s work and I wanted to put a specific idea on the table — something I think could genuinely benefit both of our clients. The planners and florists who work together most effectively produce something more than the sum of their parts. I believe that's because they share a client, a vision, and a commitment to that client's experience. I'd love to explore whether we're aligned. What I'm proposing: Option A — Mutual referrals: we each actively recommend the other to suitable clients — with genuine conviction, not just a name on a list.

Option B — Styled shoot: we co-create a shoot that represents both of our aesthetics at their best. Both of us walk away with editorial-quality imagery and a working relationship built on actually creating together. Option C — Joint client offering: for clients who book both of us, we offer a unified consultation experience — one meeting, one vision, complete alignment from day one. Would any of these resonate? I'd love to find time for a coffee. Warm regards, [Your Name] | [Studio Name] | [Phone]
